AT THE DAVIS THEATRE,

Return of the Homan Musical Revue to The Davis Next Week with New Songs, New Sketches and New

Next week the Homan Musical Revue will return to the Davis theatre for a week's engagement after adding more laurels to their already heavy crown in New London, where they have been turning hundreds away at every performance this week. Exactly the same company that played here a week ago will be seen and they will present entirely different bills from anything they have done previously. As an added attraction with the company Mr. Homan is bringing Little Jimmy Valentine, one of the cleverest boy comedians on the American stage. The opening bill Monday will be The American Widow, a screamingly funny comedy, followed by a new and up-to-date revue wherein Mr. Jewett and Miss Pendleton will be seen in new dances and big assembly numbers. Mr. Boudray, the popular bass singer, will also be heard in new solos. Miss Farrington, the magnetic leading lady, will also have something new to offer and Mr. Morrison will be heard in new mamber of the company te offer and Mr. Morrison will be heard in new ragtime songs, and in fuct every member of the company will strive to uphold the reputation they have earned and continue to please the Norwich theatregoers. Many new specialties will be introduced on Monday's bill and it promises to surpass anything ever seen in this city. There will also be a selected program of Mutual movies, including The Mutual War Weekly and one funny Keystone comedy. Owing to funny Keystone comedy. Owing to the length of the show there will be only two complete shows, daily mat-inee at 2.30, all seats 10 cents, children 5 cents. In the evening pictures will be shown from 7 to 8.15, musical revue from 8.15 to 9.30, and pictures from 9.30 to 10.30. Prices 10, 15 and 20

Anyone who enjoys a good vaude-ville show cannot do better than visit the Davis today and see the four big acts that are on the bill. Every one is a winner and the photoplays are up to the Davis high standard. Mat-inee at 2.30, all seats 10 cents, children 5 cents. Two shows tonight, at 7 and 8.45.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"Barriers Swept Aside," Kalem's Modern Two Act Sensational Film.

A surprisingly beautiful story of the danger-rocks of the matrimonial channel, is told in the wonderful Kalem film entitled Barriers Swept Aside, a two reel feature with Harry Millarde and Anna Nilsson. It deals with a hot-headed young man whose incompatibility of temper causes a saparation. Later, ingle-blessedness does not appeal to the man, and finding his former wife's rich employer paying ardent attentions, sweeps the harhis former wifes rich employer paying ardent attentions, sweeps the barriers of divorce aside and marries her in the face of entangling conditions. The Box of Chocolates, a stirring Biograph burglar picture faueetsrSHR graph burglar picture, features Claire McDowell and Charles H. West, while The Navajo Ring, a story of the Vitagraph production features. at the horagraph production, features Margaret Gibson, Anne Schaefer and William Duncan. The bill is completed with a Selig comedy entitled Cats, a genuinely funny comedy.

Coming Monday is the season's most of the complete of the complet refound drama of the great world as it. Clara Kimball Young, famous for Babble in The Little Minister, is featured, and The Deep Purple is destined to be one of the greatest successes of the old Colonial theatre. Don't fail to ask for your library contact rotes.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Today will be the last chance to see Tommy Levene and his Dancing Dolls company in one of the best bills they have put on thus far. Mr. Levene is as popular in Norwich as ever and will close this evening his third successful week here within four months'

Next Monday will bring to the Auditorium a new show, The Honeymoon Girls, which has in its cast Miss Fern Wayne, formerly prima donna with The Prince of Pilsen, and who makes her home, when not on the road, with her mother in Norwich. Miss Wayne formerly lived in Westerly, but moved here with her family a few years ago and has made many fast friends here who will be glad of the chance to see her on the stage and hear her wonper on the stage and hear her wonderful soprano voice upon which she is being highly complimented, and attracting much attention in theatrical circles. The Honeymooners Co. is very refined and classy and has with it such well known and versatile peo-ple as Lew Powers, George White, ple as Lew Powers, George White, Edith Powers and several others. Three new bills will be presented on the week changing Monday, Wednes-day and Friday, and the usual admission will be charged. On the photo-play program for Monday and Tues-day the feature picture will be The Blood of the Children, a drama of heart interest, with Marie Walcamp and William Clifford in the leading roles. The comedy film is entitled Skipper Simpson's Daughter, and is produced by the Joker company.

New London Man Buys Eccles Property. Henry H. Vignot of New London. Conn., has purchased through the Archa W. Colt real estate agency the fine residence property on Washing-ton street at the corner of Lincoln avenue facing Chelsea Parade, formerly the home of the late John Eccles.

Before Mr. Eccles acquired this stately place, it was for many years the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lanman. The grounds are extensive and present a picturesque setting of trees, shrubs and flowers. There are greenhouses and a splendid stable. The latter was equipped by Mrs. Lanman for entertaining and floors were laid suitable for dancing. Mr. Vignot is president of an advertising company conducting business in several cities. He expects to reside here in the near future. The Archa W. Colt agency has also sold to John Reidy, of Manchester, N. H., the cottage house No. 1 Slater avenue, for many years the home of Frederic Symington, formerly superintendent of the W. W. Backus hospital. Mr. Reidy, who has retired from active business, has taken possession of the property and will make Norwich his home. ome of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lan
